Code of Ethics

Every Applicant must sign the Code of Ethics. Failure to abide by these rules may result in expulsion from the Society.

1. All archeological field collection, excavation, survey and laboratory work will be conducted under the supervision of a professional archeologist or an SAS approved director.
2. All laws relating to archeological, historical, prehistoric cultural and environmental resources must be observed and adhered to by SAS members.
3. A permanent artifact repository must be obtained and approved before any archeological work can commence.
4. All artifacts and all other materials recovered during an SAS activity must be deposited at the approved repository.
5. The private purchase, sale, trade or collection of protected archeological materials by individuals is prohibited.
6. All activities under the auspices of SAS (excavation, workshops, lectures, laboratory work, surveys, etc.) must be approved by the Board of Directors.

All New Members: I agree to abide by the above Code of Ethics:
