“Archaeology Movie Night”

Saturday, April 4, 2009

6:00 to 9:00 p.m.

at

Roger and Lydia Peake’s Home
2951 Redwood, West Sacramento, CA 95691

Join SAS for a fun and educational evening viewing documentaries on some of the most recent archaeological developments around the world (sorry, no “Raiders of the Lost Ark” here!). A potluck dinner will begin at 6:00pm, so bring your favorite dish or a snack for everyone to munch on. Then settle in to watch some exciting videos about prehistoric cultures around the world - among the movies available for viewing will be:

“THE OBSIDIAN TRAIL”

Archaeologists have been working in California’s Owens Valley for thirty years recording petroglyphs, pottery, bone, wood, and stone tools in an effort to piece together the life ways of the region’s prehistoric inhabitants. With advances in the analysis of obsidian, they are taking a second look at what ancient arrowheads, points, and flakes can tell them – revealing more about California’s prehistory and the Native Paiute culture. Produced by Far Western Anthropological Research Group and Caltrans.

“AFGHANISTAN: HIDDEN TREASURES”

This video overviews the traveling exhibition “Afghanistan: Hidden Treasures From the National Museum, Kabul” featuring more than 100 gold ornaments from the famed “Bactrian hoard,” found in 1978 in Tillya Tepe, the site of six nomad graves. It tells a fascinating story of Afghan’s ancient past, the discovery, and re-discovery of these important collections. Produced by National Geographic.

Other videos including “Echoes from a Lost Valley” and “Breaking the Maya Code” will also be available for viewing, time allowing.

MOVIES WILL BEGIN PROMPTLY AT 7:00PM, PLEASE ARRIVE EARLY FOR BEST SEATING!
